One night before catamaran

Looking for some suggestions for a hotel. Will just be for our arrival night. We arrive in the morning and will board a catamaran the following day. Any suggestions for relaxing hotel or an area to search in would be much appreciated. Will probably need grocery near by to pick up a few things before boarding. Thanks!

Where is the marina you are leaving from? If it's one night I'm not sure I'd bother travelling too far from there - as long as you have a decent supermarket to provision.

I presume you hope this is post quarantine. Or is this one of the quarantine sailing packages?

Nonetheless, as said above, without departure point it's hard to answer.

then there is a hotel at Boat Lagoon.

With a Villa Supermarket and numerous restaurants on site.

Au Po is about 30 minutes drive away with a taxi service available.

These two marinas are more or less centrally located, on the east coast.

If you are leaving from Chalong, (in the south east) then there are many 2 & 3 star hotels locally.

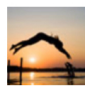

If you are leaving from Yacht Haven, (the marina which is furthest north) then I would suggest that you stay around the airport.

When searching for hotels in a particular area, I have found AGODA to be useful.

Without any indication of budget and timing of the catamaran then you might as well stick a pin on the map

3 things that would help:

proximity to ferry terminal?

near beach or with swimming pool?

Somewhere in town?

One other thing. You talk about shopping before boarding. It might be worth checking what you can take on board - sometimes they are very restrictive to what you can bring with you.
